WILLIAM ROBERT PLUMLEE
INFORMATION CONCERNING

conversation, he desired to elaborate on his relationship with John Roselli. He stated that although he was never a close associate of Roselli, he flew Roselli to Miami, Tampa and other Florida locations. Contacts of Roselli included John Martino who was connected with Organized Crime in Havana. Martino organized a raid into Cuba to remove missile technicians from Cuba. Plumlee stated that at this time he was flying as a pilot for Regina Airlines and Riddle Airlines (phonetic). Plumlee also stated that in 1962 or 1963 he was flying a contract for the State Department in which he was to leave a plane load of arms in New Mexico, receive $15,000.00 cash (believed to have come from South America) and deliver the cash in Miami. He said he had placed the cash in a bus terminal locker in Miami but was arrested by the FBI before he could deliver that money. The arrest was allegedly for bad checks. He did not know what became of the money.

Plumlee contacted the Phoenix Division a second time on August 10, 1976, and indicated that it was his desire to establish his credibility concerning his past activities. Plumlee, who has always been very "security conscious" and has always talked in vague terms, was advised that it would be easier to understand his associations and activities if he would organize them on paper and furnish his information to the FBI in that manner rather than in disjointed telephone calls. Plumlee agreed that this would be best and he would attempt to organize his recollections on paper.

Plumlee is described from observation as follows:
